... AND THE CIRCLE

CLOSES.

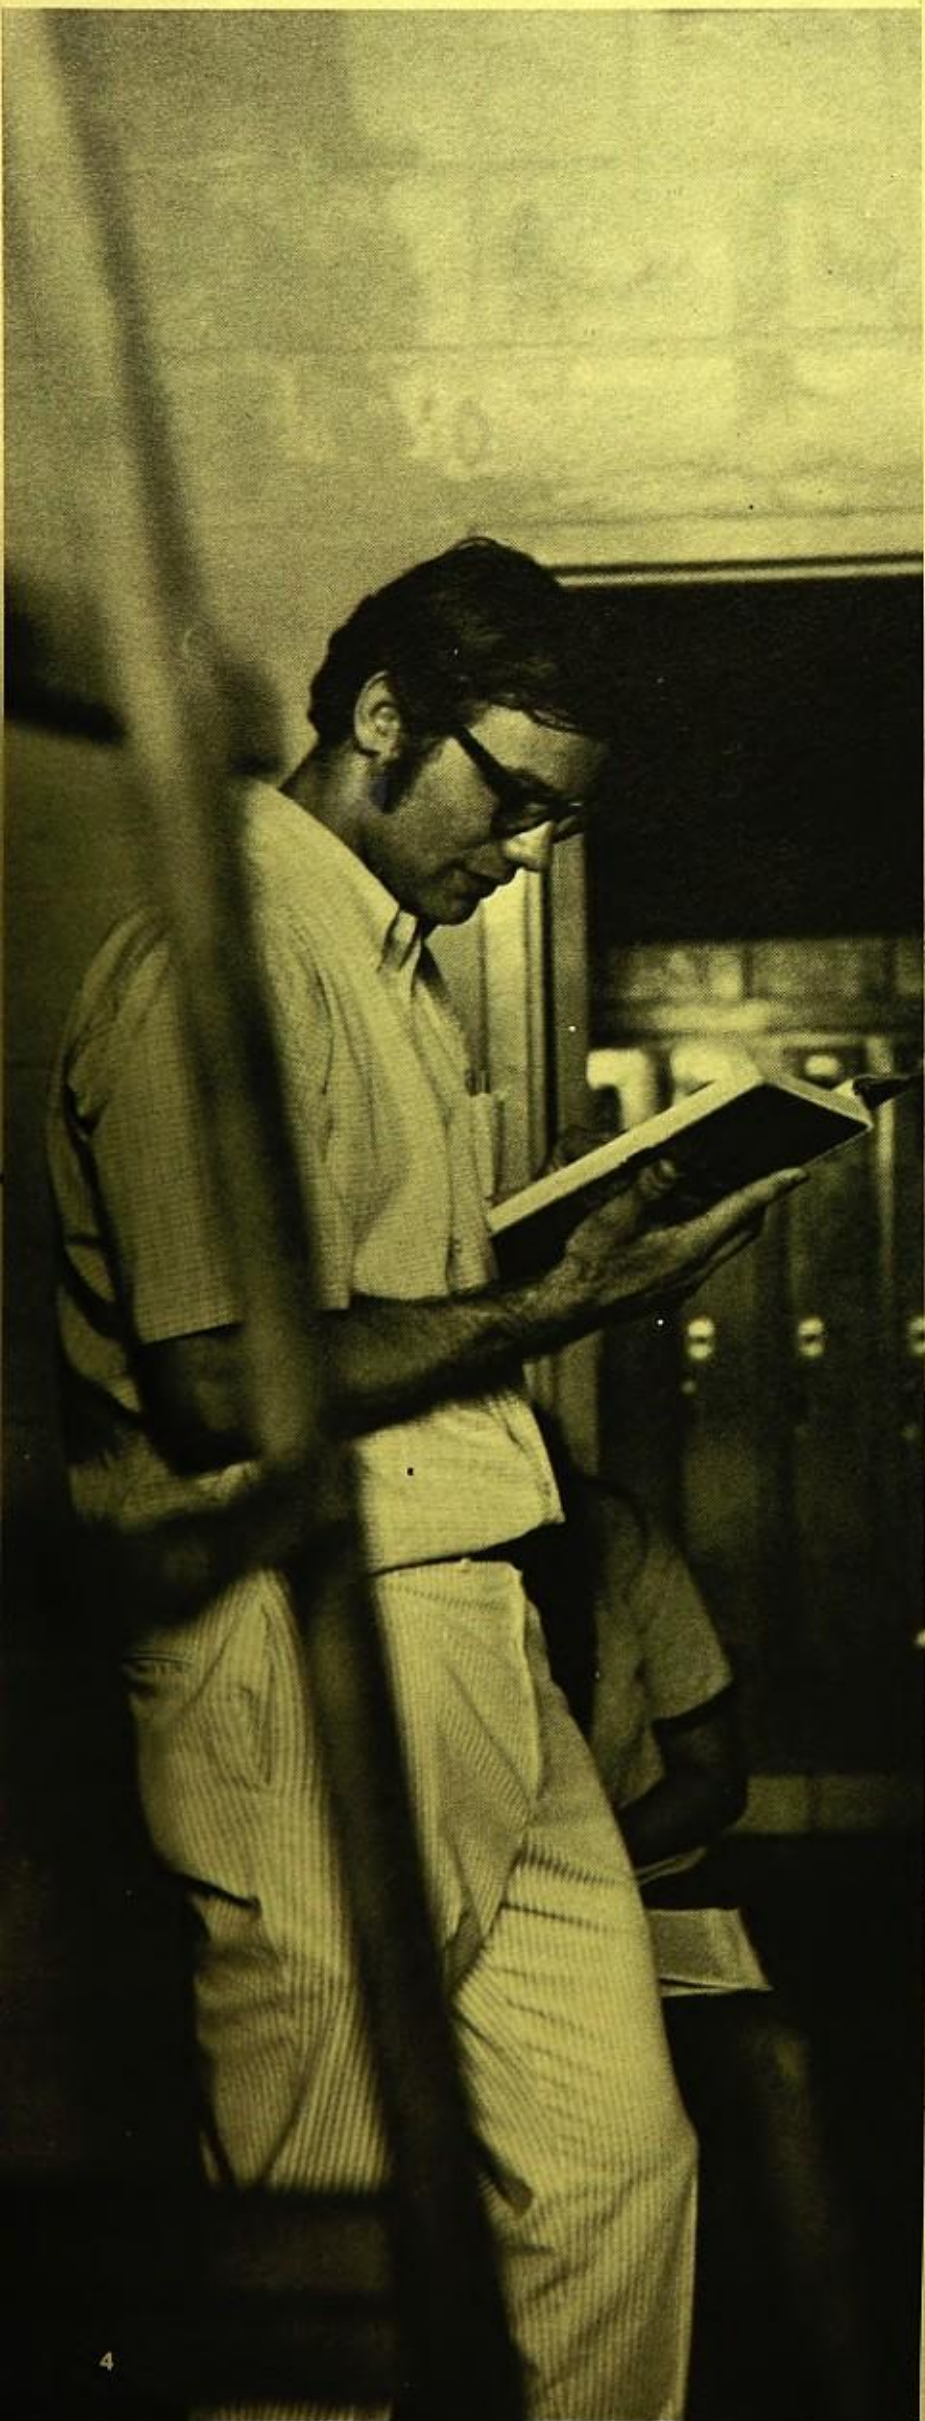

Life
is a continuous struggle for unity
Each new life
begins with a union
and grows
taking from the world around it and, in turn,
giving
a part of itself
creating the bonds
that shape the circle
that is unity

In giving
no man can remain separated from all other men
and yet
Each man remains an individual
because without his individuality he would have nothing to give
And if all were the same
there could be nothing to take
from others

taking, giving gaining, living
growing, coming together

Each man's life
ends with a union
a complete and infinite union with Nature
And the circle closes

FACULTY

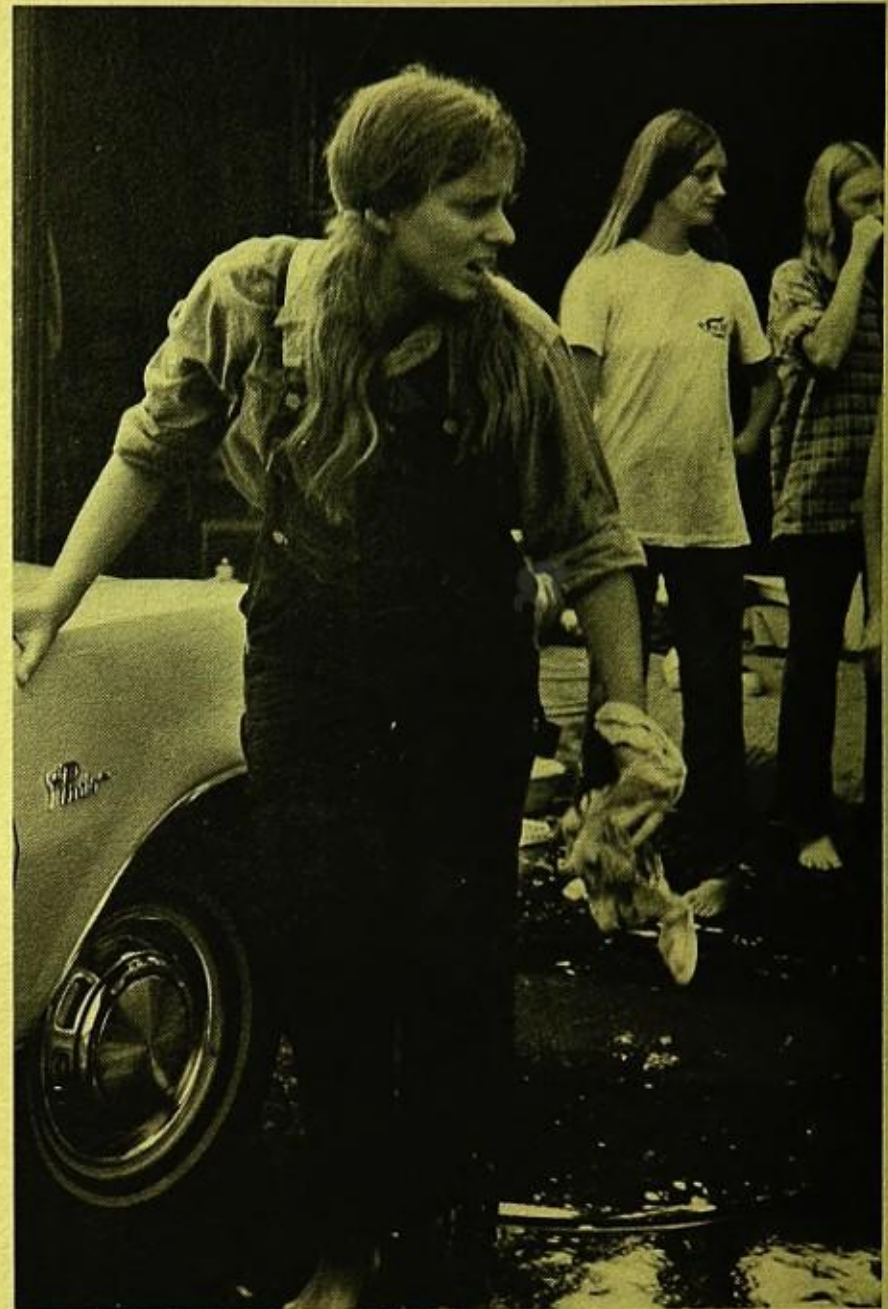

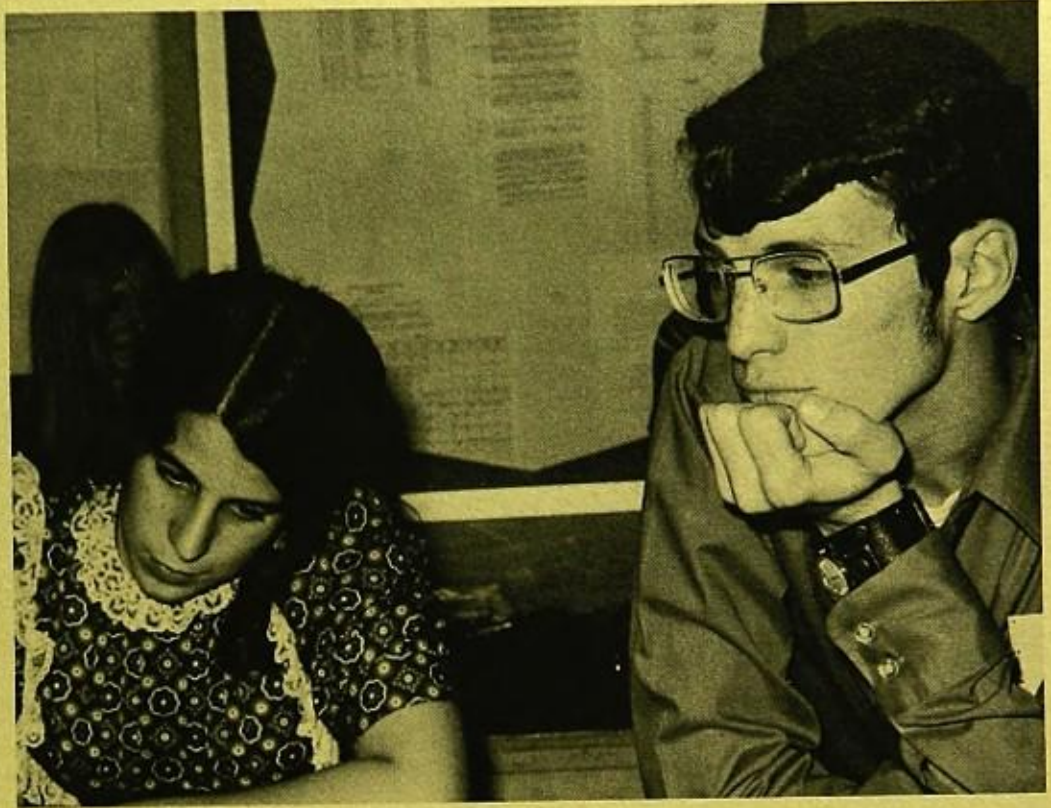

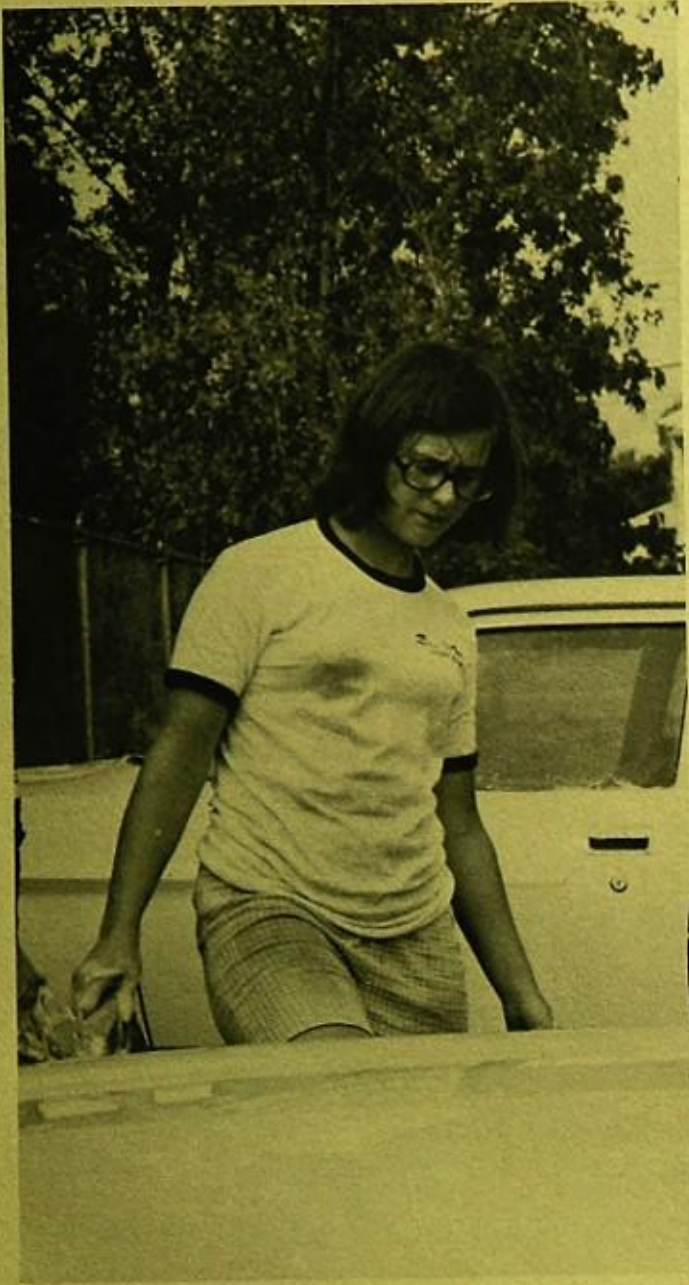

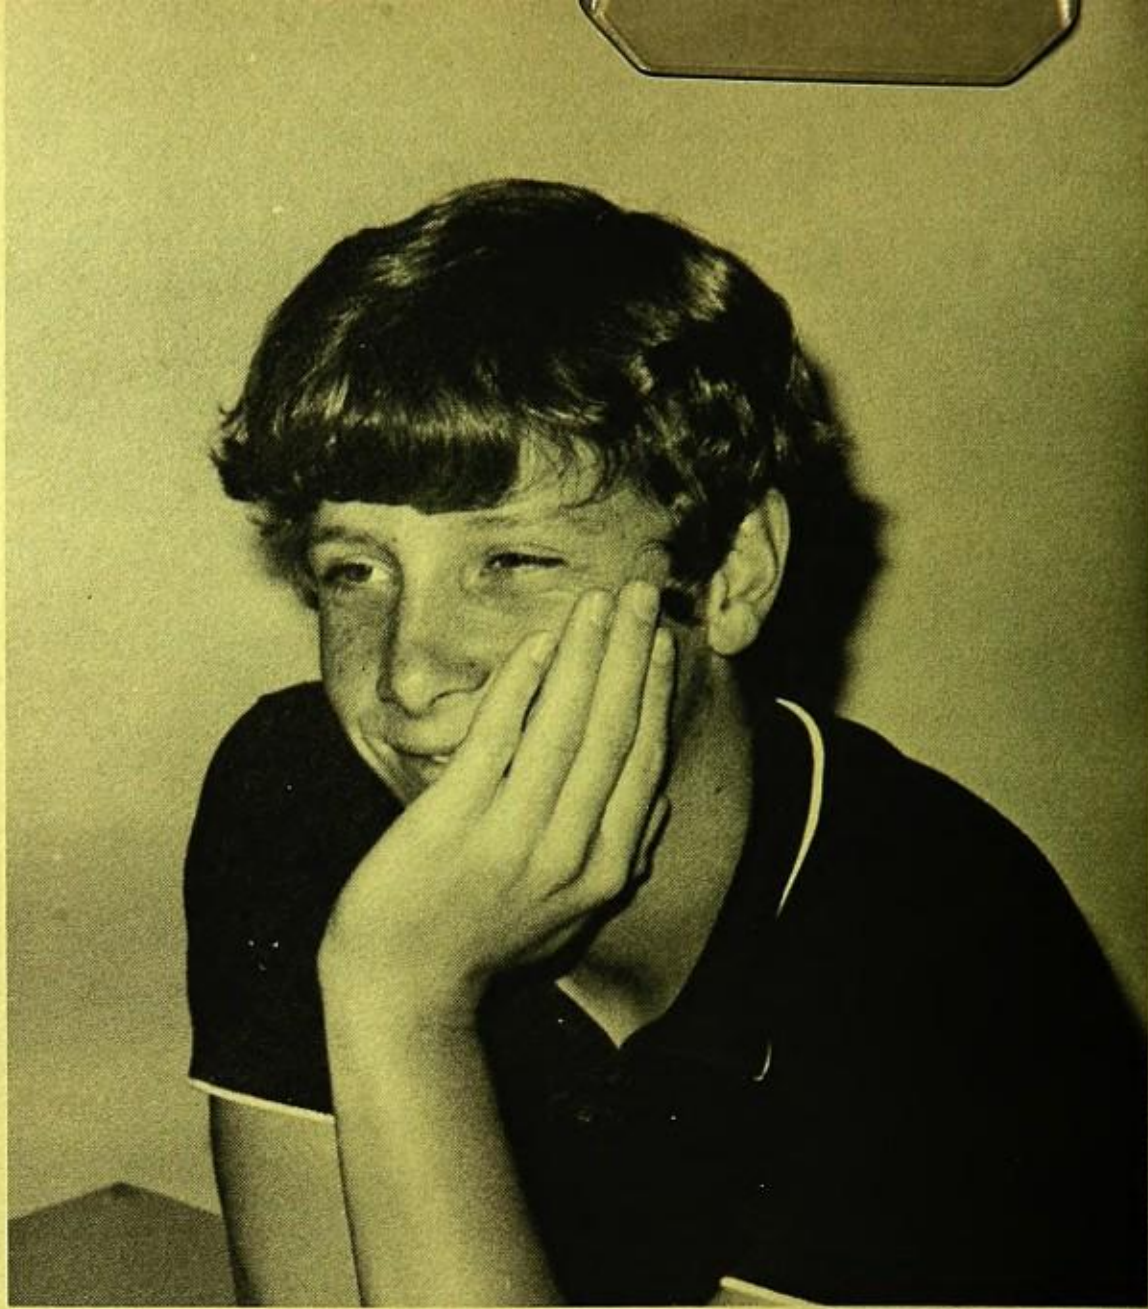

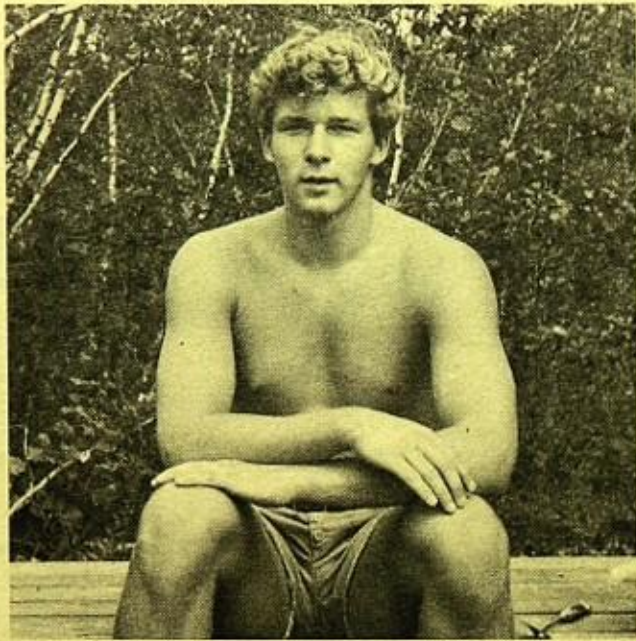

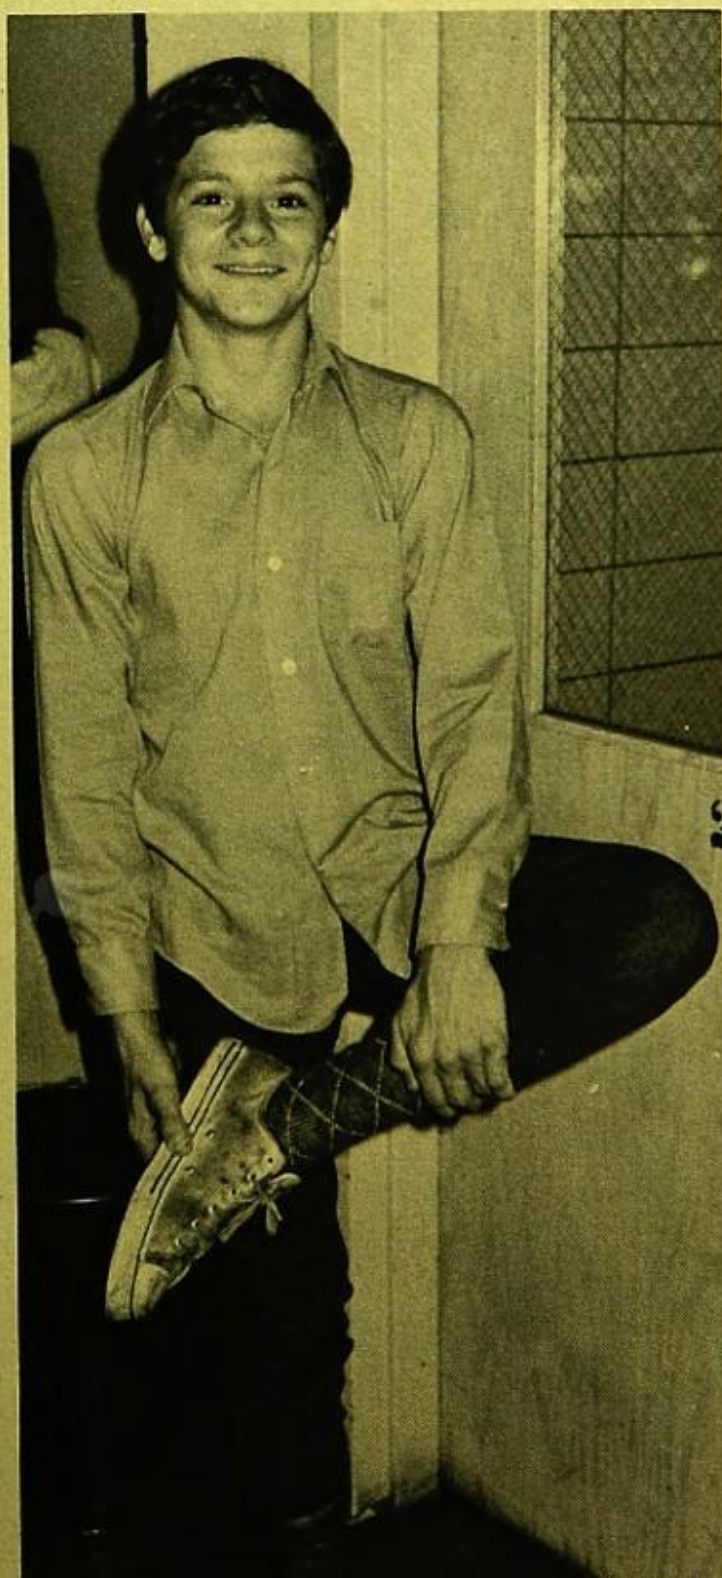

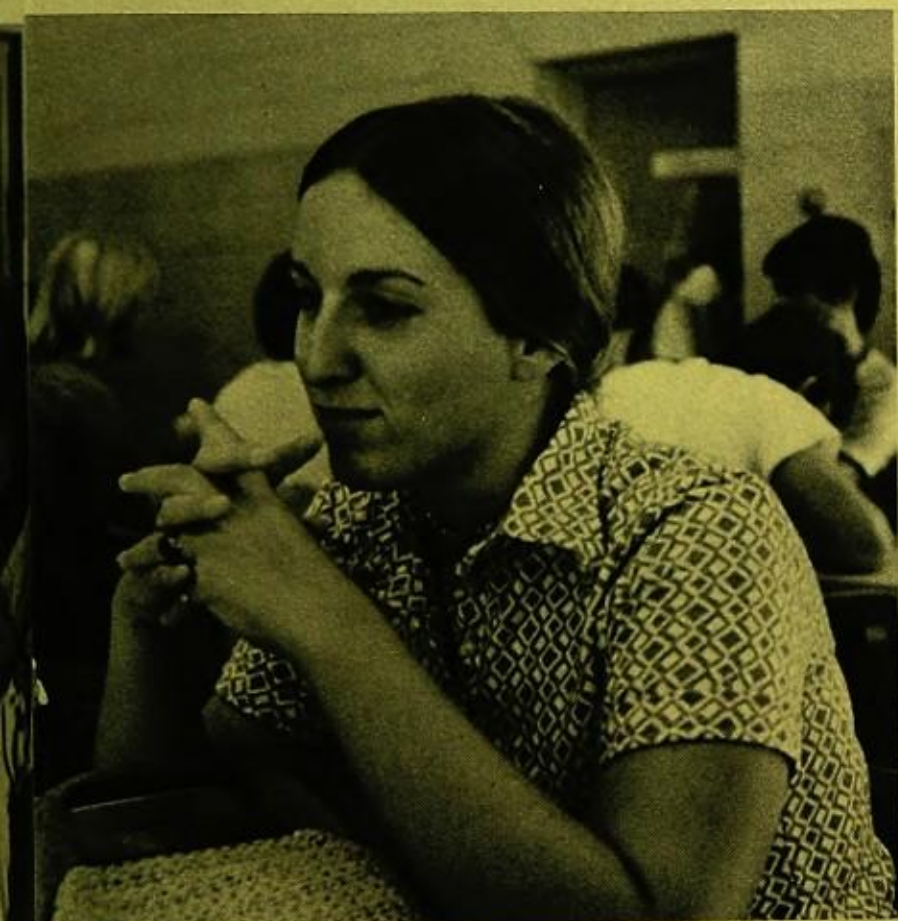

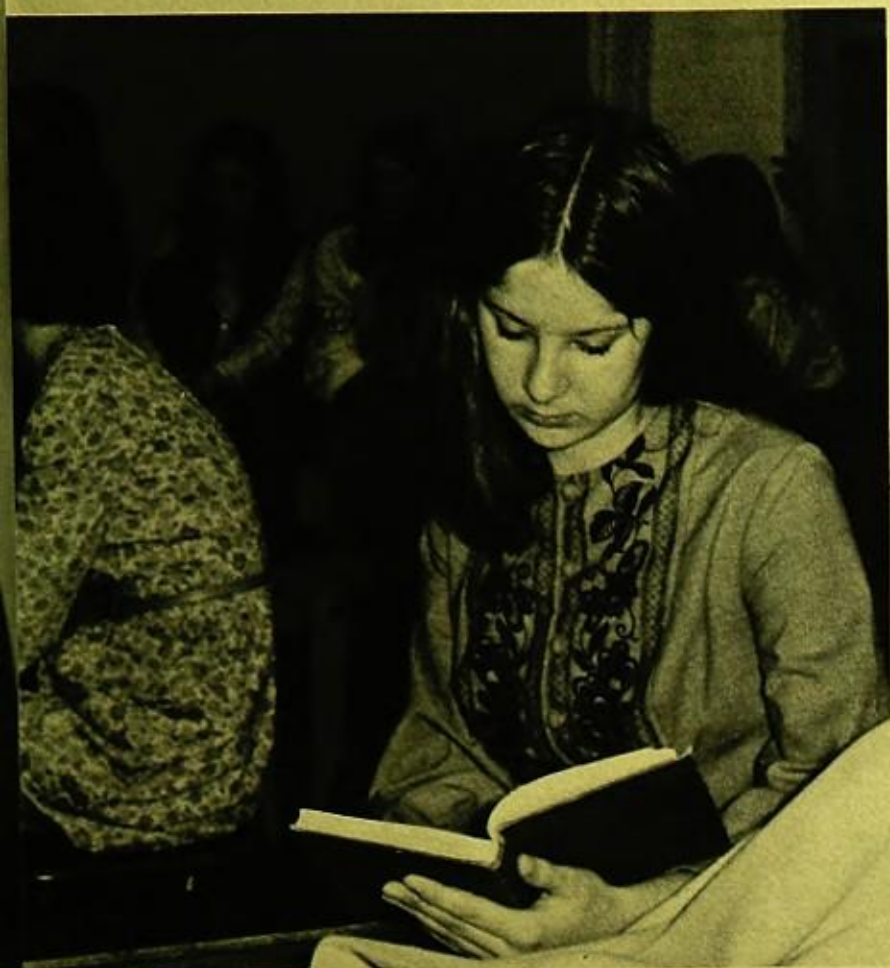

In my days of childhood,

All, all are gone,

SENIORS

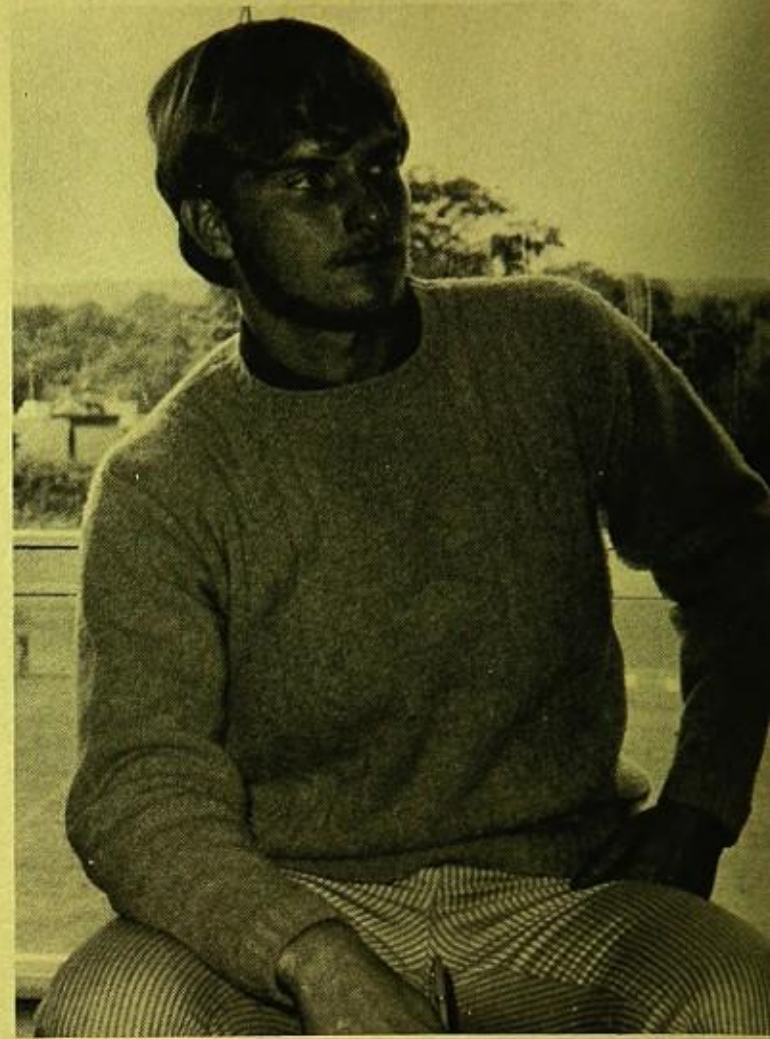

Fellow Planners of Tomorrow,

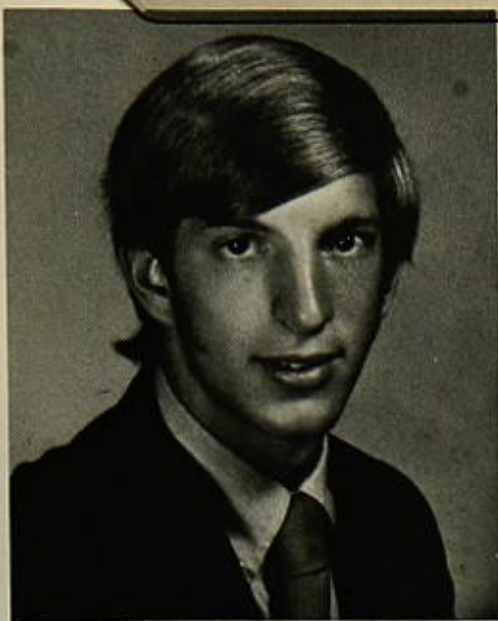

Each generation has the leaders and the led. Everyone, however has the potential power for great action and achievement. All of us have the responsibility to use our potential in our exemplary actions today and tomorrow.

Success comes through responsible and determined pursuit. Together we have participated in proms, concerts, shows, and various gatherings. We have experienced both success and unfortunate failure. Just remember that success came through our actions as a unified group.

I wish you all success and happiness, and thank you for allowing me to serve you. I have found it both an educating and pleasurable experience. Once again, good luck and thank you.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Message to the Students:

This past year has been both rewarding and disappointing. For the first time students have been able to participate actively in the Student Council which has been expanded and includes a more representative group of individuals. Many more opportunities for achievement now exist. Yet there are few who have availed themselves of these opportunities for the betterment of our school and for the improvement of our Student Government.

We have been accused of being apathetic. Were I to evaluate the interests and endeavors of the students, I would admit that our student leaders have failed to fulfill their obligations, but the student body in turn did not demand that these obligations be fulfilled.

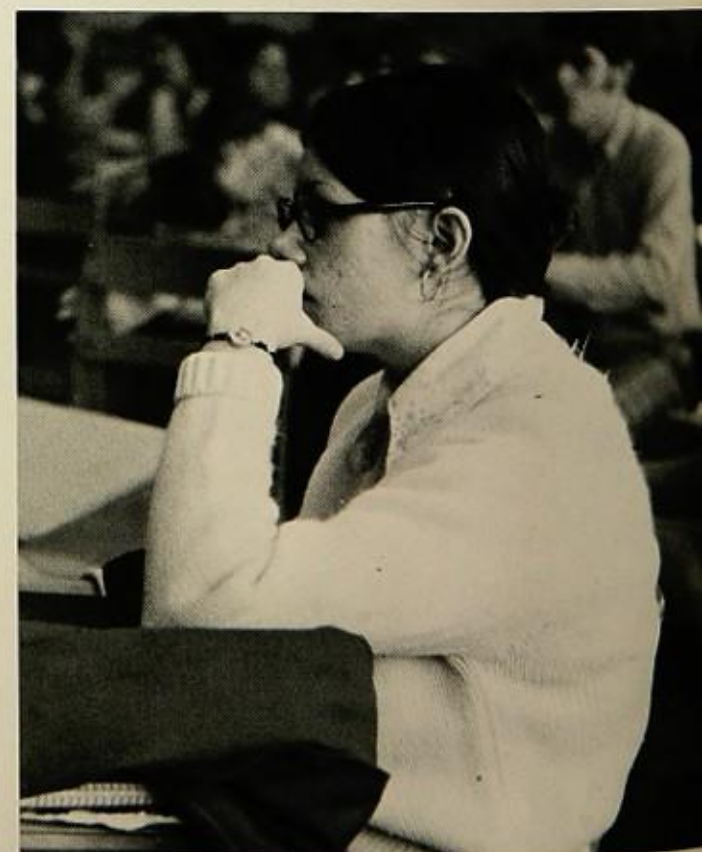

The administration this year has not only been helpful and interested, but also willing to accept new ideas. Perhaps in a sense we have failed them too.

In what direction are we going? Our strength lies in our sense of unity and responsibility. We must choose our representatives more carefully, looking for their qualities of devotion and energy.

The office of President is lonely, and by its nature removed from the student body. Nevertheless, both president and students must be able to communicate to form a workable government. Students should not have to be persuaded to serve their school. A school ceases to exist without participation and interest.

Sincerely,

Robert A. Marotto
